MEDIATION MASTERCLASS 2019

London & Birmingham

TUESDAY, 2 APRIL 2019

QEII CONFERENCE CENTRE, LONDON

WEDNESDAY, 22 MAY 2019

HILTON BIRMINGHAM METROPOLE

Please note that the maximum attendance at each event is limited to 40 delegates and we recommend booking early

The Agricultural Law Association is pleased to invite you to a Mediation Masterclass and Workshop designed to consider the practice of mediation as part of the wider Alternative Dispute Resolution options for practitioners to consider with their clients.

If you have ever used mediation, you may well have experienced one or more of the following problems:

- clients who won't listen to your advice
- barristers determined to take the matter to trial
- opponents who are not prepared for mediation
- opponents who have no intention of negotiating
- even, dare we say, an incompetent mediator

To help you make mediation work more effectively for your clients, we will be asking:

Why mediate at all?

How do you choose your mediator?

Why do mediations fail?

How do you prepare for mediation?

How do you negotiate?

What do you do when negotiations get stuck?

How do you secure a robust and workable settlement?

The Masterclass will give you an opportunity to discuss ways of improving your outcomes for clients, sharing your experiences with the other delegates and two experienced mediators who specialise in agricultural and rural property mediations.

The Masterclass will be run by David Hooper FRICS FAAV MCI Arb and Steven McLaughlin FRICS FAAV REV who together founded 3RPM, a specialist chambers for mediators specialising in agriculture and rural property. You will find a full biography for David and Steven at www.3rpm.co.uk.
